WHAT THE MARKET OFFERS

COMPARISON

Tire changers compared

The figures come from the published data sheets of the manufacturers and dealers. Where a seller publishes nothing, the cell says not published — we do not fill in what we cannot evidence. Auction figures are hammer prices; a 10% buyer's fee and sales tax come on top.

WHAT IT MEANS

The column that decides is internal clamping. Almost everything sold in Canada as an import machine stops at 24 inches and a 41-inch wheel. Twenty inches and larger is now roughly 30 per cent of factory fitment in North America — the wheels that come in for their first change in a few years no longer fit those machines.

WHAT THE MARKET OFFERS

COMPARISON

Wheel balancers compared

The same basis: published data sheets, no estimated values. A price comparison is only fair with the equipment set beside it — a machine with manual entry and one with a laser are not the same machine.

HEADLAND WB-24 PRO	fully automatic	10 – 24"	19" LCD, OPT	laser + radar	3,395	3,895

WHAT IT MEANS

Every machine in the Canadian low-cost segment uses manual data entry. The next machine with a laser costs about CAD 6,100 in the trade. There is nothing in between — and that is exactly where the WB-24 L and the WB-24 PRO sit.

100%
FUNCTION-TESTED

A specialist. The factory builds tire changers and wheel balancers in its own 13,000 m² plant on eight production lines, with in-house laser cutting and surface treatment.

Certified and audited. It holds CE certificates for its tire changers and wheel balancers and states that it works to ISO 9001. Its company profile has been audited by Bureau Veritas.

Sold where buyers are strict. Seventeen years of exports, to Germany, the Netherlands, Poland, Sweden, the Czech Republic, the USA and Japan; exhibitor at Automechanika Shanghai.

Grey import: a machine of the same class bought abroad or at auction without a Canadian importer. What it comes with varies from lot to lot; ask before you bid.

CHECKED AGAIN IN CANADA

Every unit is field-evaluated in Canada, one machine at a time, by a body accredited by the Standards Council of Canada, and carries a label with its own number.

GOOD TO KNOW

A field evaluation approves the unit, not the model — it is not CSA certification. Tire changers need a compressor delivering 8–10 bar (116–145 psi); it is not included.

Made in-house. A specialist tool-set and tool-cabinet manufacturer in Zhejiang, China. Cabinets are laser-cut, bent, stamped, welded, painted and assembled in its own plant on three production lines.

Tested in-house. The factory runs its own hardness, torque and salt-spray test equipment, so tools and coatings are checked before they are packed.

Sold where buyers are strict. About 30% of its output goes to Western Europe and 20% to Eastern Europe; it exhibits at the International Hardware Fair in Cologne.

WHAT THE MARKET OFFERS

COMPARISON

Workshop trolleys compared

Canadian Tire, Home Depot, Princess Auto and Costco do not sell a filled 7–12-drawer steel roller cabinet in this class (checked 8 October 2026). A shop buys a cabinet and a set separately — or a European professional trolley, from about CAD 1,700 for 215 tools up to CAD 7,500 for 308.
